fishman

Forces

The Kor'vattrra Fleet List uses the datasheets from the Tau Kor'vattrra Forces section and the Tau Kor'Vattrra Allied Forces section.

Using The Fleet List

The fleet list includes the following information:

Class: The type of the ship.

Notes: Notes on usage or optional upgrades.

Cost: The points value of the formation.

Special Rules

Tau fleets use Tau special rules and are equipped with Tau systems and Tau ordnance

SPECIAL RULE Tau Special Rules

Boarding Actions: All Tau Kor'vattrra ships (Explorers, Heroes, and Merchants) halve their boarding value when fighting in assaults.

Teleport Attacks: Tau may not conduct teleport attacks.

Escort Squadrons: Defenders are fielded in squadrons of 2-6, and may be combined with Messengers. Messengers operate as individual ships or as part of a squadron of Defenders.

The Orcas from each parent ship use the same Leadership as the parent and must act as a squadron, but act independently: they are deployed separately from their parent and activate different orders. If the parent ships are squadroned together, their Orcas may be squadroned together also: declare this after rolling for capital ship leadership and forming capital ship squadrons. The normal squadron limit of six still applies, so you may find it necessary to have more than one Orca squadron associated with a capital ship squadron. When Orcas from multiple squadroned parent ships form a combined squadron (or squadrons), all use the highest leadership from among the parents. Orcas may not be squadroned with any other form of escort. Wardens may only squadron with other Wardens or Castellans. A single capital ship may carry only Orcas or Wardens on its gravitic hooks.

SPECIAL RULE Tau Systems

Railguns: Railguns of the size mounted on warships require massive amounts of energy to fire despite Tau superconductors. Tau railguns count as standard weapon batteries in all respects.

Ion Cannons: Ion cannon shots vaporise the object struck magnifying the energy discharge. Armour is of no value against them. They function as lances in all respects.

Gravitic Launcher: Gravitic launchers are massive railguns where mass drivers trigger the initial acceleration before the ships gravitic field is pulsed to squeeze the missiles toward the enemy at enormous speed. The missiles are drone-controlled and exceptionally dangerous. Ships with gravitic launchers are armed with Tau missiles.

Gravitic hooks: Gravitic Hooks are large, suspensory arms which create a gravitic sheath in which a small vessel can be transported by a larger one. You may not have more Orcas, Wardens, or Nicassar Dhows than the gravitic hook capacity of the fleet - much of the cost of these vessels is included in that of the parent ship. A single ship may only carry a single type of escort (e.g. Orcas or Wardens, but not a mix of Orcas and Wardens).

Tracking Systems: Some Tau starships and orbital platforms boast highly advanced data storage and processing facilities to cope with the vast amounts of information they carry. When linked to ship sensors though this processing power can be used to provide a direct feed to the ships turrets. Any Tau vessel within 10 cm of a ship with tracking systems may re-roll misses when using turrets and ignores the column shift when firing batteries at ranges above 30 cm. Tracking systems are fully functional under any special order on any ship or defence equipped with them, including Brace For Impact.

SPECIAL RULE Tau Ordnance

Attack Craft: As with their starships, Tau attack craft is operated by the Air Caste, who provide pilots for the Barracuda fighters and Manta bombers. Both of these forms of attack craft also form an important part of Tau forces planetside, with the Mantas transporting whole Hunter cadres consisting of dozens of Fire Warriors while Barracudas provide air support.

Attack Craft	Speed	Notes
Barracuda	25 cm	Fighter
Manta	20 cm	Bomber, Resilient : may roll a 4+ to save against removal by a single fighter attack per ordnance phase.

Tau Missiles: Tau missiles are able to alter both their speed and course throughout flight, so may move at any speed between 20 cm and 40 cm (i.e. must move at least 20 cm, cannot move more than 40 cm) each ordnance phase. They are also guided. Each ordnance phase the missiles may change course by 45 degrees at the start of their movement.

The sophistication of Tau missiles comes at the cost of decreased endurance. Each turn after the turn it was launched, roll 1D6 for each point of strength in each missile salvo and reduce the strength of the salvo by 1 for every 6 rolled.

Tau ships with gravitic hooks may bring Dhows instead of Orcas (but may not bring a mix of both). Dhows use the leadership of their parent capital ship +1 (representing their natural spacefaring ability) for all leadership tests. Dhows may only squadron with other Dhows carried by parent capital ships that are themselves in the same squadron.

SPECIAL RULE Kroot Warsphere

Kroot Warspheres use the following the special rules:

Movement: Because of their unique construction, Kroot Warspheres don't move in the same way as normal ships. In their movement phase Warspheres travel 10 cm forward in a straight line, no more, no less. Warspheres may not turn or use Burn Retros or Come To New Heading orders.

On All Ahead Full orders Warspheres move an extra 2D6 cm in any direction at the end of their move. If this causes them to move 10 cm or more, the direction of this additional move becomes their new direction of travel. Due to their low speed and considerable momentum, Warspheres which are crippled or moving through Blast markers do not reduce their speed. Warspheres in the gravity well of a planet or moon may make free turns like an ordinary ship (45°) and/or place themselves in a stationary or low orbit.

Critical Hits: Warspheres lack the complex systems of true space craft, so critical hits are not rolled on the Critical table. Instead each critical hit inflicts +1 point of damage.

Catastrophic Damage: When a Warsphere is reduced to 0 damage it breaks up. Don't roll for Catastrophic damage, instead the Warsphere is replaced by 4 blast markers.

Boarding and Planetary Assaults: The Warsphere has a boarding strength equal to double its remaining hit points. During planetary assaults, Kroot Warspheres cannot return to flight during a battle once they have landed. However, they are not destroyed and only count as disengaged for purposes of victory points.

In a planetary assault mission a warsphere will contribute 3 points for each turn it is actually landed on the target planet. It contributes nothing for being within 30 cm.

SPECIAL RULE
Demiurg Technology

Demiurg Stronghold, Bastion and Citadel class vessels use the following the special rules:

Blast Markers: Any Blast marker which a Demiurg vessel moves over is removed immediately – this includes any in base contact with the vessel at the beginning of its turn. When this happens, ships in base contact with the Demiurg vessel and sharing blast markers with them lose these (along with their effects) as well.

Blast markers have no effect on the movement of the Demiurg ship, nor do they face any other negative effects of moving through blast markers, though any leadership checks they were required to make before the movement phase are still affected normally by blast markers.

Keep markers ‘hoovered up’ like this to one side so they can be used to fire a cutting beam from the prow in the shooting phase. Note that Blast markers moved over must be removed, the Demiurg player can’t choose to remove some markers and leave others in place.

Celestial phenomena: Demiurg ships are totally unaffected by solar flares, gas and dust clouds and radiation bursts. Do not place blast markers in contact with them for celestial phenomena of any kind

Deployment and Scenarios: Aside from the Tau, who appear to have the strongest known connection with the Demiurg, a number of races have on occasion been reported as having made contact with these aliens. Any fleet except Orks, Tyranids and Necrons can use Demiurg Bastion class vessels; they are purchased as cruisers but do not contribute to the number of ships required to gain access to battleships, grand cruisers, etc. Demiurg ships can never carry fleet commanders, use fleet commander re-rolls or be placed in squadrons with non-Demiurg vessels. Tau fleets (and other races whose fleet list specifically include the Demiurg) ignore these restrictions and should instead select Demiurg vessels using the entries given in their fleet list.

Mercenaries: Unless the fleet is entirely composed of Demiurg ships they are considered to be mercenaries and will not continue to fight if crippled. Crippled Demiurg ships will attempt to disengage every turn and run for the nearest point on the nearest table edge if they fail. However, if the Demiurg ship is part of a fleet fighting against Orks it will only disengage if first reduced to only having 1 or 2 Damage points remaining.

SPECIAL RULE
Cutting Beam

The cutting beam is a short ranged but devastating ionisation beam usually employed for gouging out recalcitrant moonlets. The cutting beam counts as a single lance but each Blast marker picked up by the Demiurg vessel in the Movement phase gives the beam the equivalent of one extra lance shot (up to a maximum of 8).

The cutting beam always starts with an effective strength of one before adding for blast markers, and it will never have less than this as long as it is operational.

Any Demiurg vessel may extend the range of its cutting beam to 30 cm by halving its effective strength, rounding down. For example, a Demiurg Bastion that gathers up four blast markers in the course of its immediately previous movement may in the shooting phase fire a Str-5, range 15 cm cutting beam or a Str-2, range 30 cm cutting beam. Blast markers cannot be held from turn to turn in order to power the cutting beam, any unused ones are lost.
